

Justyna Czerniakowska
GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Lives and works in Warsaw, Poland.

Czerniakowska graduated from the Academy of Fine Arts in Warsaw (Faculty of Graphic Arts, Professor Lech Majewski's studio) where she currently teaches graphic design and typography.

Her degree piece with Rector's distinction was awarded a prize by 2+3D Design Magazine. In her work as a freelancer, she focuses on culture and social subjects. Her projects span across visual communication and corporate identity, branding, poster design and publishing graphics – for such clients as the Museum of Warsaw, Münchner Stadtmuseum, the POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews in Warsaw, the Adam Mickiewicz Museum of Literature in Warsaw, the Poster Museum in Wilanów, the National Museum in Warsaw, the Warsaw Uprising Museum, Polish theatres, book publishers, record producers, film distributors, etc. Her works have been included in many international group exhibitions of graphic design, as well as art shows and competitions, for example, 世界ポスタートリエナーレトヤマ (the International Poster Triennial in Toyama), 2006, 2015. She has been invited to the jury of international events related to graphic design, including the International Poster Biennale in Mexico, 2016, and the Poster Triennial in Trnava, 2018. She received an award in the Polish Graphic Design Awards competition – in the Exhibition Design category. The Polish Association of Book Publishers honoured her designs in the Best Book Design of the Year.
